Program Description

Originally started in 1961 and renamed as a 501C (3) in 2016, the Early Education Cooperative Preschool offers an early childhood program based on research and best practices in education and child development. Inspired by both the Reggio Emilia approach to learning and The Creative Curriculum, we provide developmentally appropriate classrooms which create a community of learners where the students are encouraged to play, get messy, explore, and research the world around them. We believe that children excel at constructing knowledge when they are given opportunities to learn through unstructured play, using the environment as the third teacher, and the teachers and parents as guides and co-researchers.

Parent & Community Involvement

Fostering a community of families, staff and students is an important goal of our program and integral to the curriculum and relationships formed. Community is created between the parents, students, and teachers by hosting incoming dinners each year, visiting the children at home during the summer, working together on school clean-up days, providing parent education meetings monthly, having multiple community events throughout the year, creating a range of committees for parents to participate in and having the parents volunteer in their child's classroom. Together we form a community environment that enriches the lives of the families and staff and allows the children to play and learn in a close-knit "village".
